A screenshot of a web browser showing a notes application. The user is logged in as "javier". The interface includes a title input field ("New Note"), a description input field ("My description"), and a "Create Note" button. Above the input fields, there are tabs: "Notes" (which is active), "All", "Actives", and "Archived". To the right, there is a date ("Friday, March 29, 2024") and buttons for "See Details" and "Delete". A red circle highlights a portion of the developer tools' Application tab, specifically the Local Storage section, which shows a key named "session" with a value of "[{"id":1,"token":"MQ=","name":"javier"}].

Session will be persisted on localstorage.
